

0.1 Aligned Summoning v1.1

When you use a Summon Monster spell to summon one of the creatures marked with the *, the creature can receive only one planar template (Celestial, Entropic, Fiendish, Resolute), and only if your alignment matches the template.

The summoned creature acquires the appropriate alignment subtype. (For example: A Celestial creature can now penetrate DR/Good.) However, the Sacred Summons feat cannot be applied to summon the creature faster.

0.1.1 Explanation

Under normal rules, TN summoners have everything. They get to summon all the templates, and enjoy templated monster with Smite Alignment powers, but their critters are all TN so exempt from Protection from Alignment spells. This Mod changes that: those who play it safe with TN also get a little less options than those who have alignment. And those with alignments along both axes are the only ones who can pick between two templates.

0.1.2 Version History

1.1 – now also gives the creature the appropriate subtype for DR purposes.